Stormwater Management And Road Tunnel (SMART) has won the International Award category in the prestigious British Construction Industry Awards (BCIA) 2008 for excellence in innovation and engineering. In a statement, Gamuda Bhd said the BCIA is the most influential awards programme in the industry and is often regarded as the 'Oscar' for construction.

It said SMART win was based on its innovative engineering solution that solved two of Kuala Lumpur's long standing problems, namely the flooding in the city centre caused by overflowing rivers, and traffic congestion in the south of the city. SMART, which was completed in June 2007, was a 50-50 joint venture project between MMC Corporation Bhd and Gamuda Bhd, and was implemented under the close supervision of the government.
